THERE are several Towns in the County of Norfolk of the same Name, which lye in different Parts of the County ; as Beeston in Taverham Hundred ; Beeston in North-Erpingham Hundred ; Beeston cum Bittering in Landish Hundred ; and Beeston St. Laurence in Tunstead Hundred, which are not distinguished in the original Poll-Books : And therefore to avoid Mistakes, the Residences of all the Beestons are put under the general Title of Beeston ; and the like for all other Towns of the same Name. But where Distinctions are made in the original Poll-Books, they are here observed, by annexing the initial Letter of the Distinction to the Person's Name.

The Towns are set in an alphabetical Order ; and so are all the Freeholders under each Town.

Each Page consists of six Columns. The first contains the Names of the Resident Freeholders in each Town ; the second, the Freeholds when different from the Place of Residency. The other four have the initial Letters of the Candidates Names set at Top, and the Black Lines drawn under them shew how every Freeholder voted.

NORFOLK

THERE are several Towns in the County of Norfolk of the same Name, which live in different Parts of the County; as Bawton in the Western Hundred; Bawton in the Eastern Hundred; Bawton in the Northern Hundred; and Bawton in the Southern Hundred. And which are not distinguished in the original Poll-Books: And in order to avoid Mistake, the Residents of all the Bawtons are put under the general Title of Bawton; and the like for all other Towns of the same Name: But where Distinctions are made in the original Poll-Books, they are not of record, by annexing the initial Letter of the Distinction to the Person's Name.

The Towns are set in an alphabetical Order; and so are all the Residents under each Town. Each Page consists of six Columns. The first contains the Names of the Resident Residents in each Town; the second, the Residents when distinct from the Place of Residence. The other four have the initial Letters of the County Names set at Top, and the Black Lines drawn under them show how every Resident is voted.
